PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am a current student of Game Development at Full Sail University, with experience in C++, C#, Java, and Web Development. I also more recently have experience creating custom rendering pipelines in C++ using the Vulkan Graphics API and HLSL, as well as the EnTT ECS. I enjoy working on games and projects created with strong artistic intent and an unyielding creative vision. I also create and mix musical compositions for my personal projects, am actively studying Japanese, and am interested in brain-computer interfaces for Virtual Reality gaming.
